

Life cycle of a plastic bottle

How long do you think it takes someone to drink a small bottle of water?
Most people will hold on to a bottle for only an hour or so before they throw it away or recycle it

But the lifecycle of a plastic bottle is much much longer than that. It takes a big amount of time, energy and material to create one single bottle.

